The 50 MA support trading strategy is a short term trading strategy that takes advantage of the fact that many stocks tend to halt their drop at the 50 day moving average. The 50 day moving average is a very important moving average that is often watched by many traders and investors.

The 50 MA Support Trading Strategy - Stock Market Analysis

THE STRATEGY. The power of the 50-50 strategy is its simplicity, and it is something a beginner or advanced trader can use. If you buy an upward-trending stock at the 50-day MA when the RSI is above 50, and sell at the MA some time later, it is highly probable you may benefit from a profitable trade (assuming you follow good entry/exit techniques).
